U.S.-Japanese Trade Pact To Expire Shortly

U. S. May Refuse To Enter Temporary Commercial Agreement With Japan

PRESENT PACT TO END ON JANUARY 26

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The United States may refuse to enter into any temporary commercial agreement with Japan after the treaty of commerce and navigation between the two nations terminates January 26.

Authoritative quarters indicated today that the chances for a modus vivendi, or temporary arrangement embracing trade concessions by both countries, are exceedingly slim at the present moment.

Denounce Treaty

The 1911 treaty of commerce and navigation was denounced by the United States as a retaliatory measure against Japan's violation of American rights in China.

No possibility exists for arrangement of a new treaty by January 26 but the American government has left the door open to adoption of some temporary substitute plan. Discussions are now being held between American Ambassador Joseph C. Grew and Japanese officials on proposals for modus vivendi.

The United States, however, will demand a stiff price for even a temporary commercial arrangement since this government still stands on the general principles of the nine-power pact, signed by Japan, recognizing the independence of China and the right of various nations to share in Chinese trade and commerce. There is no disposition by American officials to accept any compromise.

Inducements Offered

Reports from Tokyo indicated that the Japanese government has offered the United States a number of "inducements" to arrange a temporary commercial agreement.

The state department refused to Pennsylvania motorists have only two more weeks in which to apply for their operator's license, and Lawrence county drivers who want to be able to enjoy this privilege without violating the law had better make their application at once, in order to get in under the wire. There are almost three million drivers in the state, statistics reveal, and the department will be jammed with applications during the next two weeks.

Weather conditions over the week end played havoc with dirt streets, which had been frozen up for several weeks. The earth thawed out, and then rain set in, with the result that big holes were soon worn into the cartway by passing traffic.

Weather conditions over the week end played havoc with dirt streets, which had been frozen up for several weeks. The earth thawed out, and then rain set in, with the result that big holes were soon worn into the cartway by passing traffic.

It didn't take very long for skating ponds to freeze over again after the warm spell and skaters were out last evening enjoying their favorite sport on most of the shallow ponds in the district. The ice was a little rough in spots because of the high wind and snow while it was freezing up again.

Another class is about to complete its studies at the New Castle Senior high school. On Sunday evening the baccalaureate service for the mid-year graduates will be held at the Cathedral, and next week the graduation exercises.

One of the suburban areas surrounding New Castle that is building up remarkably is that section beyond the end of Highland avenue, known as Highland Heights. Scores of homes have been erected in that district in the past few years.

Sweden And Norway Protest To Russia On Territorial Violations

(International News Service)
STOCKHOLM, Jan. 16.—Friction between Soviet Russia on one hand and Sweden and Norway on the other mounted today as the two Scandinavian states sent protests to Moscow against alleged Russian aerial violations of their neutral territory.

The Norwegian government at Oslo announced its legation in Moscow had been instructed to protest against the flight of about 30 Soviet warplanes over Norway's northern Pavil district on Friday.

It was charged that one of the Russian planes landed on Norwegian territory for a short period.

At the same time the Stockholm foreign office announced its minister in Moscow was ordered to protest against Sunday's Soviet raid over the Swedish island of Kalla, during which nine bombs were dropped.

Special Grand Jury Will Probe Evidence Of Espionage, Sabotage

By LEON W. SHLOSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—A special grand jury to receive wholesale evidence of espionage, sabotage and other illegal activities of foreign agents was convened in the capital today.

Described by Department of Justice officials as the most important move to date in the government's campaign against law violations by representatives of foreign nations, the special jury was expected to devote all its time to espionage and related cases.

One Of Major Steps

Formation of the jury was one of the last major steps directed by Attorney General Frank Murphy in his vigorous anti-foreign agent drive. Senate confirmation of Murphy's appointment to the supreme court is probable before the week is out.

Two crack assistants to the attorney-general are ready to go before the grand jury with evidence alleging attempted theft of military secrets, use of fraudulent passports, and failure to register with the state department on the part of numerous individuals and firms. The two attorneys—Henry G. O'Donnell and Floyd M. Reitt—said among those to be investigated were: Robert Minor, Israel Ament, Alex Trachtenberg, A. A. Long Dynasty Fate Is At Stake

Six Hundred Thousand Persons Voting In Louisiana Primary Election

LONG MACHINE POWER IS DULLED

By WILLIAM G. GADET
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 16.—Louisiana was voting for a governor today in a primary election expected to decide the fate of the political empire that the late Huey P. Long came out of the hills to establish 12 years ago.

So important is the second issue—fate of the Long dynasty—that a record turnout of 600,000 voters was predicted for the statewide Democratic primary, in which many other state officials are nominated. In Louisiana, a one-party state, nomination is tantamount to election.

With its authority and power dulled by amazing revelations of graft, the machine has placed the mantle of responsibility on the shoulders of Gov. Earl K. Long, younger brother of the late "Kingfish."

As gubernatorial candidate, Gov. Long serves as the standard bearer for a machine which became known all over the nation when the blazing banner of "Share Our Wealth" was held on high by Huey.

Huey was slain in September 1935 and with his death the fire that kept "share our wealth" alive has slowly faded to ashes.

Opposing the candidacy of Gov. Long are four independents.

Sam Jones, 42 year old Lake Charles attorney, is advocating a reform program. Backed by a majority of Louisiana's press, Jones sounded the keynote of his campaign when he said:

"The only issue in this campaign is honesty in government."

Chamberlain And Hore-Belisha Are Heard In House

CHANGE NEEDED SAYS CHAMBERLAIN

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The "very great qualities of Leslie Hore-Belisha—presumably his dash, drive and ruthless energy-created difficulties which compelled his removal as war secretary," Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today.

After Hore-Belisha himself had admitted differences of "opinion" outlook, temperament, and understanding among his colleagues at the war office, Chamberlain reiterated that there were no clashes on questions of policy and added:

"I will only say that I became aware of difficulties arising out of the very great qualities of Mr. Hore-Belisha which in my view made it desirable that a change should occur."

Frequently interrupted by opposition shouts of "were anxious to save your face" and "why don't you resign," Chamberlain stated that he himself only held office by favor of the house.

School Principal Suspended For His Battle With Girl

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 16.—There was no turning of the other cheek, according to reports today, when South Connellsville Principal John M. Snader and Miss Josephine Edenbo, 17, fought it out on a "slap and slug" basis.

Snader was suspended by the school board last night following a closed meeting at which both the principal and school girl testified.

Miss Edenbo charged that Principal Snader "nocked me down and slapped me after I was down . . . But I came back and gave him a stiff to the jaw which made him take pale."

Principal Snader said when he attempted to punish the girl for chewing gum she fought back and it became a "question of self defense."

The girl's father, J. L. Edenbo, said he would file charges of assault and battery against the school principal following a hearing this morning.

Four Hundred Soviet Planes Took Part In Raids Finns Assert

By PETER DE HEMMER GUDME
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HELSINKI, Jan. 16.—Russian air raids left a trail of death and destruction in more than 20 Finnish cities and towns today while bitter cold descended over the country, virtually halting military operations on the Carelian and eastern fronts.

The cities attacked by Russian planes included Viborg (Viipuri), the country's second largest metropolis, and the southwestern port of Turku.

Four Hundred Planes In Action

About 400 Soviet planes rained bombs upon houses and streets, killing and wounding scores of persons—most of them women, according to Finnish authorities.

In the far north on the Petsamo front there were signs that the Russians were preparing for a new major offensive as soon as the weather permits. Russian planes in that area subjected Finnish communications to severe bombing assaults.

On the Salla front two Russian divisions were reported still holding out and some reports stated they were advancing. Finnish patrols there were reported concentrating on hand grenade attacks against Soviet field kitchens.

BEWARE NOW OF EPIDEMIC COLDS!
Here's Some Good Time-Tested Advice

With folks all around suffering with contagious colds, be just as careful as you can—and you may avoid a lot of sickness, trouble and worry.

Follow these simple rules of health: Live normally. Avoid excesses. Eat simple food. Drink plenty of water. Keep elimination regular. Beware of wet feet and drafts. Take some exercise daily—preferably outdoors. Get plenty of rest and sleep.

Then use these two time-tested treatments when needed.

AT THE FIRST SIGN OF A SNIFFLE, SNEEZE OR NASAL IRRITATION... put a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril right away. This helps to prevent many colds from developing, because Va-tro-nol is expressly designed to help Nature's own defenses against colds. (If a head cold causes stuffiness, you'll find that a few drops of Va-tro-nol helps clear the clogging mucus and makes breathing freer and easier.)

COUNCIL JEWISH WOMEN ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP TEA

A musical program of rare quality featured the annual Membership Tea of the New Castle Section of the National Council of Jewish Women held in the home of Mrs. Abe Fisher, Moody avenue, on Monday night. Seldom has such arrangement for two violins been heard in the city as were given by Hans and Hertha Basserman recently of Germany now residents of Pittsburgh.

Hans Basserman, eminent virtuoso, has served as Concert-master with the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra and with the Palestine Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Toscanini. He is now affiliated with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra as a member of the first violin section.

In his solo group which included Bach, Paganini and Kreisler, Hans Basserman displayed an artistry of "extraordinary reproductive talent" well deserved of the praise of Huberman who comments on the "technical purity and musical plastic art" of the violinist. Violin duets of unusual charm, compositions of Louis Spohr, followed. In these Hans and Hertha Basserman displayed fine technique and musical skill as each instrument served to complement the other.

The program was introduced by Mrs. Elijah Kaplan, chairman of the Children's Aid Committee.

Adding to the dignity of the occasion was the address of Helen Diamond Cohen of the Tri-State Coordinating Bureau on "The Responsibility of the American Jew in the Present World Crisis." She said, "The survival of the Jew is predicated not alone on sufferance but on an indomitable will and desire to serve the cause of righteousness." She urged the need for inter-faith cooperation in serving the needs of local community, the State and the Nation as an intelligent way of preserving Democracy. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Louis Kohn of the committee on Service to Foreign Born.

During the business session with Mrs. Irvin Grossman presiding, an announcement was made of the sewing during the month of February at the Jameson Memorial Hospital with the Council of Jewish Women in charge. The Council Section will furnish a treat to the patients at Polk Institute at the monthly visit by Rabbi Norman Diamond. Announcement was made of the joint study group with Hadassah Tuesday at 2.

A social period followed with Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger and Mrs. Louis Kohn pouring.

MONROE DOCTRINE VERY MUCH ALIVE

I will take more than the word of President Cardenas of Mexico to convince most Americans that the Monroe Doctrine is dead.

The Mexican Executive contends that the principle of mutual consultation among the American republics established by the Buenos Aires Pan-American Conference of 1936 made the Monroe Doctrine inoperative.

There is no question that the increased solidarity of the Western Hemisphere is a great achievement. But President Cardenas should ask himself whether such solidarity ever could have come about except through the agency of the Monroe Doctrine, which discouraged European nations from transplanting their ancient hates and rivalries in the New World.

Instead of being dead, the Monroe Doctrine, which stands not for overlordship by United States but for the preservation of America for Americans, is more alive today than ever before. And it is now more essential to the solidarity of this Hemisphere, and to the protection of the Americas from foreign interference, than in the past.

Rather than in proclaiming the vibrant Monroe Doctrine extinct, President Cardenas would be better occupied in seeking ways to pay for the millions of dollars' worth of United States property his government has expropriated in the last few years.

KEEP WAR OUT OF UNITED STATES

It is true, as United States Attorney General Murphy says, that "the purveyors of hatred, the provokers of civil division and strife, the swaggering apostles of force and violence, are methodically and with pre-meditation laboring to bring the United States into the same conditions of group hatred and civil war that have destroyed the peace of Europe."

In some ways it is easier to work such mischief in America than in many foreign countries. Racially we are not a homogeneous people. We have here individuals and groups representing all the countries of the world. The great majority of these immigrants and their children have gone through the melting pot and are now good representatives of the American system and the American viewpoint. But some are still susceptible to Old World influences, especially in a time like this when Europe is seething with hatred and some of the prejudice and passion spill over into our national life.

The only way to resist this disturbing influence is for Americans, whatever our racial origin or sympathy, to put the welfare of this country ahead of all foreign considerations. We cannot have a European war going on here—ideological or otherwise.

GREENWICH VILLAGE GOING OUT

Oliver Herford, one of the most brilliant of American wits, used to chain his pet bear to a tree in the heart of Greenwich Village, the Soho Square of teeming New York. When asked how he happened to own a bear, Herford explained that he had inherited $300 and "I was so afraid that I'd spend it foolishly that I bought a bear."

This little tale is recalled as one bears of the activities of a Village editor named Walter Gregory Bryan, who gets out a weekly neighborhood newspaper and has done much to counteract the impression that his bawlfink is a giddy place. Mr. Bryan is a tireless organizer of community sings and other local projects and repeatedly emphasizes in his paper, The Villager, that Greenwich Village has eight banks and 43 churches.

It is quite a step to Mr. Bryan from Oliver Herford and Floyd Dell and Frank Shay and Bobbie Edwards, who went from a small upstairs New York town to Greenwich Village to make the ukelele the fad of the hour. It is a far cry from the impudent artists and writers, who found rooms below Fourteenth Street because the rents were cheap, to the smart operators who cashed in on the arty atmosphere and worked so successful a publicity campaign that the rents went kiting and the whole business took on a phoney look like the stage scenery which is all front and nothing in back.

According to a recent survey, the Village is about through as the Latin Quarter of New York. It passes from the picture of American life and leaves behind the memory of a curious place and epoch.

BANKS AND NEWSPAPERS

Newspapers and banks have at least one thing in common, in the opinion of the Ouachita Citizen of West Monroe, Louisiana. Both of them get plenty of criticism.

"The most difficult task that we can think of at the moment is to run a bank or a newspaper to please everyone," says the Citizen. "If the banker is conservative he is charged with not being helpful to the community. If he lends the depositors' money too freely he is criticized when the borrower can't repay and the bank closes. The newspaper man who prints all the news regardless of who makes it, is criticized and called sensational. If he leaves it out he is charged with being afraid to print the news. The best plan for the banker or the newspaperman to follow is to run his business the way he thinks it should be run and let the critics criticize."

It would be an interesting experiment if "self-starting" critics were given charge of the nation's banks and newspapers for a period. It's a safe bet that they'd rapidly learn a sad lesson—and an equally safe bet that the public which depends on banks to safeguard its money and newspapers to give it the news of the world, would take a terrific beating. Amateur banking and amateur journalism would be a far cry from the real professional articles.

Banking has given the American people and American business unparalleled service—it furnished the financial lifeblood that built this nation in world record time. The American newspaper gives the people better, more complete and more accurate coverage of what is happening a mile away, or ten thousand miles away than the press of any other country. The bankers and the editors will go on doing these vital jobs while "the critics criticize."

They that sow in tears shall reap in joy. Psalms 125:5.

Ellwood Resident Elected Delegate To Annual Cause And Cure For War Conference

Mrs. Catherine Charles, Ellwood City librarian, who was chosen by nine women's organizations of Lawrence county to represent the organizations at the 15th annual Cause and Cure for War Conference, will leave Sunday for the sessions at Washington, D. C., January 22-26.

The organizations sending Mrs. Charles are made up of over 3,000 local women in the following groups, the A. A. U. W. of New Wilmington, the B. & P. W. of the Ellwood City Woman's Club, the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Lawrence County P. T. A., the W. C. T. U., the Woman's Club of New Castle and the Y. W. C. A.

The theme of the conference this year is "The World After the War and Our Responsibility Toward It." This conference represents 11 national organizations whose educational programs have largely helped to change the attitude of the United States about war. The mechanics for peace are stressed much more generally than they were when the conference was started 15 years ago.

Mrs. Charles is one of the organizers of the Ellwood City Woman's Club. She is also a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club of that city. She was chosen because she would be able to bring back much of the conference program to Lawrence County groups.

Fulton Meetings In Calvary Church Continuing Tonight

Special services at Calvary Presbyterian church had a very auspicious beginning on Sunday. Both morning and evening services were conducted by Rev. J. C. Fulton, of Plain Grove, who filled the Calvary pulpit, exchanging with Rev. W. J. Holmes. The evening service was especially inspiring and impressive, when the evangelist spoke of the tragic results of sin.

Rev. Fulton led the meeting for the children preceding the regular service, a work for which she is especially adapted. Her remarkable skill as an accompanist was remarked by many, and enjoyed by the entire audience. Ruth and William Fulton assisted in the service.

Monday night the speaker led his hearers into the question of God's guidance for daily life. Another fine audience greeted the speaker.

Tonight Mr. Fulton will discuss "The Greatest Text in the Bible." A delegation from Wurtemburg and friends from churches of New Castle have been in attendance. The services continue at 7:45 o'clock each evening, the final service will be held Sunday night at 7:45 o'clock.

Rotary Wives Star In Comedy Ribbing Husbands

Rotarians and Rotary Annas roared with laughter as they watched and heard a gifted cast of Rotary wives last night dramatize the faults of—yes, of husbands, all husbands—in a side-splitter called "There Are None of Them Perfect."

The players topped the entertainment of the Rotary club's Ladies' night dinner program in the dining hall of the First U. P. church on Clemmons boulevard.

Vocal numbers by the talented Castle Ails quartet of New Castle proved hits, and at another point, the stunt program which Mrs. William J. Caldwell supervised proved how to everyone of the 125 persons in the audience. Rotary Annas, you don't know, are wives of the Rotarians.

William J. Caldwell was the party's general chairman. He had capable assistants.

The dinner which the group enjoyed was served by ladies of the First U. P. church.

Participating in the comedy cast were Mrs. James W. Moorhead, who was the coach and Mrs. Walter W. Duff, Mrs. Paul H. Wilson, Mrs. Orville Flora, Mrs. Ross D. Berger and Mrs. Marshall G. Matheny.

Two new members welcomed into the club, were Mrs. A. H. Andrews and Mrs. O. N. Fischer.

On The Quintuplets
And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

A NEW WAR DANGER

The war in Europe is striking at us in a new way. It is threatening us with a shortage of cod liver oil. I know that the first reaction of many who read this will be "so what?" They will hardly regard it as news over which very many persons are likely to worry. But there are many of us who are more than a little concerned over this news for we see in it a menace to our national health.

I suppose this last statement will be deprecated by the skeptical-minded, but nevertheless it is true. I have always staunchly insisted that to the children of this continent, cod liver oil is a necessity in winter. I wouldn't let a child of mine go without it. I know what it has done for hundreds of children. I know what it did for the Dionne quintuplets.

If our supplies of cod liver oil are cut off or curtailed, then there will certainly be an increase in sickness amongst us. This I am sure of and so I think it would be foolish not to look on the cod liver oil shortage as a very serious thing.

The reason we face this shortage is that most of our cod liver oil comes across the Atlantic. Over there a large proportion of the ships are under government control and so are not available for commercial traffic. Those freight ships that are in service are in such great demand and are under such expense that preference is given to the most urgent and best paying cargoes.

There is another controlling factor also. Governments have commanded factories and are keeping the supplies at home. This is what happened at Hull, England, where a very large plant is located. The British government is taking all the oil produced. It is also taking over large amounts of the oil produced in Newfoundland. Newfoundland is one of the main producers in North America. Now its domestic customers must look elsewhere for supplies.

About the only remaining source of the oil open to us today is Norway.

way. Luckily for us, Norwegian oil has the reputation for being a very superior product so that what we do get will be the best in the world. But here the difficulties in the way of shipping become a factor and so we cannot look forward with much confidence to a dependable supply of the oil from Norway either. It may even come to pass that it will be dragged into the war as Finland was.

The biggest needs for cod liver oil come in the late fall and the winter, when we use it as a substitute for sunlight. Most of the importers do not bring their shipments in until early fall. The outbreak of war in late August cut off much of this year's shipments and many domestic suppliers are already short of the oil.

The quintuplets each get a teaspoon of cod liver oil morning and evening every day in winter. In the morning they get it with six ounces of orange juice as soon as they get up, while they are dressing. In the evening they get it just before supper. It has done wonders for them. I hope that nothing happens to prevent them and other children from being deprived of it.

Reports Credit Farley With Opposition To Third Term

Capital Wonders About Candidacy

National Politicos Puzzled As To His Ambitions To Be Candidate

SERIES OF SPEECHES PLANNED FOR SOUTH

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—National politicos are wondering today whether Postmaster General James A. Farley is about to launch a personal campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Latest rumors credit Farley with being opposed to a third term for Mr. Roosevelt and with personal aspirations for the nomination. Earlier, his friends contended he would be content to get second-place on a ticket headed by Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Personal Appearances

The Democratic generalissimo is reported scheduling a series of "personal appearances" in the south. This is no new thing in Farley's life, which for the last seven years has been one grand tour of the United States.

The approaching southern trip, however, differs from the others. This time he is reported to be scheduling talks before business men, instead of postmasters, and before letter carrier groups, and "Jim" is going to great steps to carefully prepare his speeches.

Farley long has been looked upon by Capitol politicos as opposed to a third term. For a while last spring, "Jim" was believed favorable to the idea of Mr. Roosevelt serving another term, but by midyear he definitely committed himself against it. When his opposition became known to the "brain-trusters," a "purge Farley" movement followed but Mr. Roosevelt himself halted that by putting his blessing on the postmaster general.

Parents Of Slain Girl Ask Damages

Suit For $10,000 Is Filed Against State Trooper At Mauch Chunk

(International News Service)

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., Jan. 16.—Counsel for the parents of 14-year-old Joan Stevens, killed last June by bullets fired by state police Corp Benjamin Franklin, today had filed a $10,000 damage suit against the Pennsylvania motor policeman.

John Stevens, Nesquehoning miner, claims the damages for funeral expenses totaling $733 and because he is deprived of Joan's "potential earnings." The suit was filed in the Carbon county courthouse in which a jury on Sunday acquitted Franklin of murder and manslaughter charges growing out of the slaying.

Meanwhile, the status of Franklin remained clouded. He has been suspended since he shot the grade school pupil to death in a police patrol car. Though cleared of the felony charges, he cannot be reinstated until an involuntary manslaughter indictment has been disposed of.

It has been indicated that the latter will be not pressed soon. If that is done, Franklin can be reinstated with immediate payment of back wages which at present total $1,700. —PUT IN NEW CASTLE—

Report American Brigade Training To Assist Finland

Two Of Members Interviewed As To Why They Were Helping To Fight Russians

SYMPATHIES ARE WITH TINY NATION

(International News Service) LONDON, Jan. 16—Existence in Finland of an "American brigade" was reported by Geoffrey Cox in a dispatch to the London Daily Express today from "somewhere in Finland."

Cox reported that he had watched the brigade in training and interviewed two of its members, Arthur Williams of the Bronx, New York, and Lawrence Heidemann of Detroit, Mich.

Williams, a house painter, was quoted as saying:

"I said to my wife the night before the Finnish war started: 'I'm going to get up 10 minutes earlier tomorrow and hear the first news broadcast. There's going to be trouble!'

The announcer said, "Good morning, everybody. Here are the headlines today. Russia invades Finland by land, sea and air." I turned to my wife and said:

"I'm off!"

"I managed to get my boss to give $25 to the Finnish relief fund before I left."

Was On Vacation

Heidemann, 27, a former student at the University of Michigan, was quoted as saying:

"When the war broke out I was in Helsinki on a vacation and study tour."

"I saw the first bombs fall. First I said to myself:

"This is not my business. My father is a Finn but my life lies in the United States."

So I let the American legation evacuate me to Stockholm. There suddenly I saw things differently and came back. It's my fight."

Quadruplets Are Born Down South

Three Girls And Boy Born To Wife Of Alabama Sharecropper

International News Service Staff, Jasper, Ala., Jan. 16—"It was an awful shock—I'd been expecting twins."

Thus did Clyde Short, Alabama sharecropper and part time miner, give an inkling today how it feels to be the father of quadruplets.

Short's wife gave birth to three girls and a boy Sunday night under almost primitive conditions in the small house on the farm the Shorts lease at Nauvoo, just west of Jasper.

Although today Mrs. Short, who is 32 and the mother of five other children, was receiving the best of care at the Walker county hospital in Jasper, where her four infants were reported to be "doing fine" in incubators, the births occurred under difficult conditions.

It was claimed that Dr. H. J. Sankey, the attending physician had to work feverishly to keep the babies alive. An open grate fire was the only source of heat. A kerosene lamp furnished the only light.

Dr. Sankey worked with the mother and quads throughout the night, keeping the babies wrapped as warmly as possible in blankets and whatever covering offered. On Monday Mrs. Short and the babies were brought to the Jasper hospital. The four weighed about three pounds each.

Authorities said the quads were the first to be born in Alabama. The three girls were named Faith, Hope and Charity. The boy has not been named.

Beaver Falls Here Tonight In Loop Game

New Castle Hopes To Upset
Beaver Falls And Take
Second Place Undisputed

RESERVE TEAMS IN PRELIMINARY

There is only one game in Section Three listed for tonight and that game will find the New Castle High team, meeting the fast Beaver Falls High team at the George Washington High gym floor. The reserve teams of the two schools, will play the preliminary game, 7:30 o'clock.

Second place will be at stake, as the two games tangle New Castle by virtue of having played more games than Beaver Falls at the moment, but a defeat tonight will drop them to third place. Both teams have been beaten by Ambridge.

Watch Young Rayz

The New Castle team will do well to keep an eye on the young Beaver Falls center—Johnny Rayz. In almost every game to date the young man has been a big threat. In fact the young man in question is among leading scorers in the league which is topped by Ray Bombyk, the New Castle star center with 41 points, and also finds Rags Gennock with 36 points. Rayz has a total of 37 points.

Joe Woodski, another Beaver Falls veteran, a guard will also bear watching. He is a tower of strength on the defense as well as a fairly good scorer. Both Rayz and Woodski will be graduated in another few days leaving two gaping holes in the Beaver Falls lineup. Of course New Castle also will suffer by graduation—losing Ray Bombyk the center and Lindy Lauro at a guard position.

Both Lauro and Bombyk will play their last game at Butler the night of January 23.

Probable Lineup

The game here tonight will be one of the best of the season. Both teams will put forth every effort to win. A loss for either team will just about eliminate them from further consideration. If the Ambridge team keeps plugging along like it has been.

Following are the probable lineups for the main game:

New Castle—Beaver Falls
Gennock F Platacz
Cowden F Ross
Bombyk C Rayz
Lauro G Woodski
Bucci G Gennock

State College Is Given 2000 Bulbs

STATE COLLEGE, Jan. 16.—Because of the beauty of its campus, the Pennsylvania State College has been presented with 2,000 tulip bulbs by bulb growers of Holland for a permanent campus display. Six varieties were included.

The gift was arranged by Herbert Askwith of New York, father of Marjory Askwith, who is a senior in journalism at Penn State. This college was selected along with Riverside Drive and the new Henry Hudson Parkway in New York as sites where Holland's chief flower would be seen by great numbers of people and in appropriate setting.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The stock market firmed today after four straight declines, but changes were narrow and trading comparatively light.

Most issues were higher at the opening but later the list slipped with steels leading the reaction. When this slide failed to attract any marked selling, the market abruptly reversed its trend and by midday most leaders again were behind plus signs.

U. S. Steel set the pace for general market movements. The stock opened up 1/2 at 59 1/2, dropped later to 58 1/2 off 1/2, but recovered to above 59 before noon. Bethlehem and Republic also established fractional gains while Youngstown Sheet & Tube wiped out a loss of almost a point.

Chrysler was as low as 81 1/2, then moved up to just under 83. General Motors followed a similar pattern.

Others to show modest improvement were Westinghouse, General Electric, Kennecott, Johns-Manville, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Santa Fe, Consolidated Edison, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber and Sears Roebuck.

Included among laggards were Anaconda, American Can, Texas Corp., Montgomery Ward, N. Y. Central and United Aircraft.

Statements made by Professor Eric Griebling of Kent State university, Kent, O., that girls attend college just to place themselves on the marriage market have churned up heated controversy between the "prof" and the coeds on the campus. Griebling's statement that men were more serious in their school work adds to the howls of wrath. The professor, who requires students to keep diaries for his English class, is shown with Janet Foltz, a co-ed.

A special guest was Mrs. Campbell Daubenspeck of Pittsburgh, who is visiting at the parsonage. Nineteen members participated.

Mrs. Fred Wehman led the devotional period after which games and contests were enjoyed with the prizes being won by Mrs. A. W. Klinck and Mrs. Fleischer. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

A request from the American Legion post to provide for an appropriation of $300 to aid with the expense of the Beaver county Armistice Day celebration to be held next November was given to the budget committee.

After these three communications had been presented, Councilman Howell objected to further transposition of business, stating that no one knew who the committees were for the new year. R. and Meneice objected to the motion as being all of the business had not been finished.

Plans are already being discussed by church groups in the Seventh Ward for the special Easter services. Easter is not too far in the distant future, one may soon discover by consulting his calendar.

Ice skating on the Seventh Ward rinks, one on Maple street and the other on South Ashland avenue, has been somewhat curtailed by the warmer weather. While a stiff breeze has been blowing, the temperature registered above the freezing mark.

Mahoningtown Young People's chorus will present the music from the opera "H. M. S. Pinafore" tonight in the Epworth Methodist church. This is a repeat performance, the same concert being presented in the ward shortly before Christmas.

During the past few weeks, there has been a steady increase in the number of heavy trucks operating through the district, local residents report.
